Our partner programme provides you with various cooperation opportunities. We rely on a rich, international network of consulting, sales and integration partners.

Once you become a partner of BOC, you will benefit from exclusive access to specialised support material and receive individual supervision that is tailored to your specific requirements.

Support your projects

Use professional tools for your EA and BPM projects.

- ADO*it* and the complementing Web Client to cover all enterprise architecture phases.
- ADONIS Professional Edition and the complementing ADONIS Process Portal (APP) to implement the complete BPM lifecycle.
- Hosting services and Software as a Service (SaaS) for your clients.

Use standardised reference content

We help you speed up your projects by providing you with the right reference content.

- Gain full access to our standardised frameworks or use your own.
- Use industry standard reference architectures or add your own to our tools.
- Benefit from various reference materials, such as the ITIL reference architecture or other industry-specific service landscapes.

Attend training sessions and events

We prepare you to work with our tools and share our experience with you.

- Attend training sessions to become familiar with our tools and how they can be used to successfully implement EA / BPM solutions.
- Meet other EA / BPM professionals at our exclusive events and learn from their hands-on experience.
